

General Responsibilities of FCCLA

Leaders

All FCCLA leaders can give their best by—

- being cooperative and dependable;
- working closely with other officers, committee chairs, and members in carrying out chapter plans;
- working closely with advisers;
- being familiar with basic parliamentary procedure;
- respecting and involving other members;
- participating in both executive council and chapter meetings;
- being an affiliated member;
- being familiar with state and national FCCLA publications;
- participating in regular chapter evaluations;
- being informed about the organization and its opportunities;
- being familiar with chapter, state, and national bylaws.