

Allen County Technical Center

Dual Credit Courses

KCTCS (Kentucky Community and Technical College System) dual credit is concurrent enrollment in high school and a KCTCS college with credit awarded by both. A high school student may earn both high school and college credit for the same course upon completion of course requirements and acceptance to the KCTCS institution. Allen County Technical Center currently has a dual credit agreement with the Bowling Green Technical College. Some administrative fees may be required by the KCTCS institution and may be the responsibility of the student attending.
